

For Immediate Release
November 11, 2010

City of Columbus Parking Violations Bureau To Provide Special
Sunday Hours Following Two Remaining OSU Football Home Games
PVB and Police Impound Lot Now Open At New Location

- The Parking Violations Bureau will provide special Sunday hours, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., on only November 14 and 28 for motorists whose cars are towed for illegal parking before and during the two remaining Ohio State University home football games against Penn State and Michigan
 - PVB's normal hours of operation are Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and closed on Sunday. The special Sunday hours apply for only November 14 and 28
 - PVB has provided special Sunday hours following all OSU home football games this season except for the Marshall game which was played on a Thursday night
 - The Parking Violations Bureau accepts only cash and credit cards (Visa, Discover, MasterCard only) for release of impounded vehicles. More information is available at www.columbuspvb.com
 - The Parking Violations Bureau is based in the Department of Public Service
- On Monday, November 1, the City of Columbus opened the new Parking Violations Bureau and the Division of Police Impound Lot:
 - The new facility is located at 2700 Impound Lot Road, just off Haul Road at State Route 104
 - The old facility at 400 West Whittier Street officially closed on Saturday, October 30; all vehicles are currently being moved to the new facility
- To help direct motorists to the new location:
 - An electronic message board is currently at the old Whittier Street facility notifying motorists the location has changed; the message board will remain at the Whittier Street location until after Thanksgiving Day
 - A large green-with-white lettering sign at the old Whittier Street location indicates the facility is closed and provides directions to the new Impound Lot Road facility
 - Signs and maps to the new Impound Lot Road facility are on the doors and windows of the old Whittier Street location
 - Signage has been placed along West Whittier Street, South High Street and Haul Road providing directions to the new location
- See the attached map for directions to the new Parking Violations Bureau and Division of Police Impound Lot